Alexandre Mebazaa is Professor of Anaesthesiology and Critical Care Medicine at the Hôpital Lariboisière, University Paris 7, France. His research interests include mechanisms of contractile impairment during acute heart failure. He is heavily involved in several European and global registries on circulatory failure. He authored or coauthored more than 200 papers and is Lead-Editor of the “Acute Heart Failure” book. He is acting as Vice-Chair of Department of Anesthesiology and Critical Care in Paris, and Chair of Educational Board of Paris 7 Medical School.
Prof. Vera Regitz-Zagrosek MD, PhD

Director Berlin Institute of Gender in Medicine (GiM), Center for Cardiovascular Research (CCR)
Charité Campus Mitte, Berlin, Germany

Vera Regitz-Zagrosek is professor in Internal Medicine and is the first and only German professor of Cardiovascular Disease in Women at the Charité Berlin/Humboldt University. She founded the Berlin Institute for Gender in Medicine at the Charité, the working group on cardiovascular disease in women at the German cardiac society, the German and International Societies for Gender in Medicine and served as founding president in both. She is Task Force leader of the European Society Cardiology on cardiovascular diseases in pregnancy. She acts as reviewer for national and international funding organizations and journals. She published over 150 scientific papers and numerous book chapters and organizes yearly congresses.
2nd Cape Town Cardiac Disease in Pregnancy Symposium
28-29, Sept 2017
Cape Town, SA

Prof. Mark R Johnson MD, PhD
Clinical Chair in Obstetrics
Faculty of Medicine, Department of Surgery & Cancer, Imperial College of London, London, United Kingdom

Mark Johnson first completed his PhD and obtained his accreditation in General Medicine, Endocrinology and Diabetes. He then trained in Obstetrics and Gynaecology and became Senior Lecturer, Consultant in Obstetrics and Obstetric Medicine. Since 2010, he is Professor in Clinical Obstetrics at Imperial College, based at Chelsea and Westminster Hospital. His research interests involve preterm labour and heart disease in pregnancy. He authored or coauthored more than 300 papers and is a member of specialized societies as the perinatal Research Society and the Society for Gynecologic Investigation.